

WHAT TO DO IF YOU OR YOUR MASJID OR ORGANIZATION IS APPROACHED BY ICE

What is ICE?

ICE refers to the Immigration and Customs Enforcement, a branch of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security. ICE enforces immigration laws within the U.S. and engages in arrests, raids, detentions, deportations, and removal proceedings. ICE can work with other law enforcement agencies, including the police.

ICE's actions are often intended to, and frequently do, create fear and concern within targeted immigrant communities.

Who is at risk for targeting by ICE?

- Noncitizens without immigration status.
- Noncitizens who have violated the terms of their immigration status.
- Generally, ICE prioritizes people:
 - With certain types of criminal convictions,
 - With prior orders of deportation, or
 - Who are believed to be a threat to national security.

What are my rights as an individual in ICE interactions?

> REMAIN SILENT	You do not have to answer questions about your immigration status.
> SPEAK TO A LAWYER	You should not sign anything without a lawyer.
> REQUEST A PHONE CALL	Contact your consulate if you are a foreign national.

What should we do if ICE shows up at our masjid?

ICE does not have the right to enter a private space like a masjid or home without a warrant. ICE needs either a judicial warrant (different from ICE warrant, see below) or consent to enter into private spaces like a masjid.

If ICE shows up to the masjid, you should not allow them entry and ask them to show a judicial warrant. You should also refuse to answer any questions.

ICE agents may try to argue that certain spaces of the masjid are open to the public and thus no warrant is required. Masjids should consider putting up clearly delineated signs that the entire masjid is private property.

If ICE agents show up, consider using these words: “I do not give you permission to enter my masjid and I do not wish to speak to you. I do not give you permission to be at my masjid. Please leave.” Masjids should designate one or two authorized individuals to deal with any ICE officers who show up.

What should I be on the lookout for if ICE shows up to my masjid?

Be wary of ICE agents using tricks, lies, and/or intimidation to get consent to enter a masjid. ICE almost never has a judicial warrant. Be aware that ICE may try to use internal US Department of Homeland Security documents titled “Warrant” as proof of a warrant. This is not a judicial warrant and does not grant them access.

Judicial warrants should have a judge’s signature and be issued from a courthouse. Only a judicial warrant from a court house requires you to allow ICE agents to enter into the masjid.

What should I do if ICE has a valid judicial warrant?

- 01 If ICE does have a signed judicial warrant to enter and inspect the premises, first, make sure to ask the agents to provide identification.
- 02 Second, ask to review the warrant. The warrant will list where officers are allowed to search and what can be seized.
- 03 Third, arrange for someone from the masjid to accompany the ICE inspector at all times while on the premises to ensure they are abiding by the parameters of the warrant. You have the right to document and record interactions with ICE agents.

On January 20, 2025, the Trump Administration rescinded protections for sensitive areas like places of worship, schools, and hospitals from immigration enforcement. This move aims to instill fear in immigrant communities, allowing arrests in these spaces. However, ICE can still only enter a masjid or other private areas with a valid judicial warrant or consent. Do not willingly give consent—only allow entry with a judicial warrant.
